* Whenever any words are used in this Policy and Procedures Manual in the masculine gender they shall be construed as though they are also used in the feminine gender or neutral gender in all situations where they would also apply. CECA Code of Ethical Practices – Revised July, 2019. Revised to be gender neutral July 2021.

C.E.C.A. CODE OF ETHICAL PRACTICES

The responsibilities and obligations of the elevator industry to the public, building owners, architects and its workers, are many, due to its position in the Canadian business world. By furnishing quality constructions, competent workmanship, and the best in management, the people and country shall be served as expected.

To fulfill this obligation, it is one's duty to themselves, to the customer, and the industry to make a profit in one's business.

Ethical standards are essentially two-fold/ that is, to establish principles of business conduct to be observed by the members in their relation, 1) with each other and 2) with those who use their services. In either sense, they represent the minimum requirements for fair competition and honorable dealing with the concept of the Golden Rule.

Accordingly, we recommend the following principles as industry policy and practice to all members of the Canadian Elevator Contractors Association.

1. SANCTITY OF CONTRACT

Contracts, whether written or oral, should be carried out in good faith to their full intent.

2. EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

The welfare and success of employer and employees are independent and are of mutual concern, requiring respect, fair dealing and justice.

3. CONTRACTOR AND SUPPLIER RELATIONS

The dealings between contractor and supplier must be guided by the same principles of honor and fair dealing that each party would desire if they were the other party. Proposals should not be invited or received for consideration from anyone who is known to be unqualified or from one who, for some other reason, has no genuine possibility of being awarded a contract. In cases where the supplier is also contracting, they will so notify all contractors they are bidding the project. The price of one competitor should not be made known to the other. In no case should the low bidder be led to believe that a lower bid has been received.

4. ARCHITECT RELATIONS

The Contractor's responsibility to the Architect is to keep them advised of the functions and responsibilities of the elevator trade, and to advise them against uneconomical, improper practices and limitation in specifications.

5. COMPETITION

Fair and bona-fide competition is not only desirable, but necessary, in Canadian business. Any act or scheme to restrict fair competition is a breach of faith and betrayal of principles. Any false or malicious word or act that would harm the reputation of a competitor is considered unethical and should be avoided.

6. PAYMENTS

Payments for services rendered, material and supplies, are to be made as per terms of billing, contracts, etc.

7. SAFETY CODES AND STANDARDS

The Canadian Standard Safety Code for Elevators, Dumbwaiters, and Escalators, with its revisions, should be adhered to as a minimum standard, except where local or provincial codes dictate to the contrary.

8. CANADA'S ANTI-SPAM LAW

Canada's anti-spam legislation (CASL) is the federal law dealing with spam and other electronic threats. It is meant to protect Canadians while ensuring that businesses can continue to compete in the global marketplace. Failure to adhere to Canada's anti-spam laws will result in membership termination. Please review the rules and regulations set out by the Canadian government regarding this. Canada's anti-spam legislation - Office of the Privacy Commissioner of Canada - priv.gc.ca

BASIC ORGANIZATIONAL PRINCIPLES

BASIC PRINCIPLES

- a) The considered rule of the majority must prevail.
- b) The rights of members with a minority opinion must be protected.
- c) Respect for the dignity of all members must be assured.
- d) A logical order of business must be provided.

CONSTITUTION, BY-LAWS AND STANDING RULES

The Constitution: Defines the structure, purpose and organization of the group.

By-Laws: Whereas the constitution contains the policy of the organization, the By-Laws specify the means of carrying out this policy.

Standing Rules: Covers matters pertaining to the orderly process of business not significant enough to be in the By-Laws. Majority vote is sufficient for their establishment and they may be amended or rescinded by a two-third vote.

TYPES OF MEETINGS

A "Meeting" is the assembly of the member for any length of time.

A "Session" refers to a series of meetings.

- a) Regular meeting: Held at specified times and deals with the general business of the organization.
- b) Special meeting: Convened to treat a special problem. No other business is in order.

TYPES OF PROCEDURES

- a). Formal procedure: Does not permit discussion of a subject until it is offered as a motion, then seconded and restated by the Chair. This procedure results in quick, orderly action.
- b). Informal procedure: The membership is permitted to discuss the subject prior to framing a motion. The informal procedure forms better motions by permitting the group to arrive at a general opinion before the making of a motion.
- c). Conduct of the meeting: Whether formal or informal procedure is used, all discussion is controlled by the Chair. Members address the Chair as "The Chair". The Chair refers to themselves in the third person: "The Chair rules..." or "The Chair disagrees".
- d). Recognizing members: The Chair need not rise when recognizing a member who wishes to speak. The Chair must recognize members in the order in which they raise their hands.

AGENDA: ORDER OF BUSINESS

- 1. Call to order.
- 2. Minutes of the previous meeting.
- 3. Reports of Officers, Boards, Standing Committees.
- 4. Report of Special Committees.
- 5. Announcements.
- 6. Unfinished business.
- 7. New business.
- 8. Adjournment.

PURPOSE

- a) The order of business provides a logical system for group considerations and the procedure by which the chair advances from one matter to another.
- b) Reports action of the elected officers.
- c) Contributes knowledge gained by special committees.
- d) Reminder of actions still pending.
- e) Furnishes knowledge and facts recently obtained.
- f) The order of business can be rearranged at any time by a two-thirds vote. (Note: Written copies of the agenda should be available at the start of each meeting).

AGENDA: CALL TO ORDER

The President of the organization usually presides as the Chair. Should the President be absent, the Vice-President presides, and next the Secretary.

a) Quorum:

The Chair opens the meeting by enquiring of the Secretary if the quorum is present. A quorum is a simple majority in legislative bodies, but in social and professional organizations it can be as low as 25% of the membership. The specific number for a quorum is in the By-Laws. To open a meeting, the Chair stands, raps the gavel and announces, "The meeting will please come to order". When no quorum can be had, the Chair says, "As there is no quorum, a motion to adjourn is in order". The motion is made by a member, and then seconded, and the meeting is adjourned by the Chair.

a) Calling the Roll:

Usually the Roll is called only if there is a question as to whether there is a proper quorum or to identify all individuals present or not present.

In cases of extreme urgency, the Chair may conduct a meeting without a quorum. Any actions approved must be ratified at the next legal meeting. An action undertaken, which breaks the faith or inflicts injury by repealing or rescinding, is illegal.

Should a meeting start with a quorum and lose it (members leaving before adjournment), discussion may continue but no vote can be taken.

Agenda- Minutes of the previous meeting:

Minutes are the official record of the actions of the group. They are read and approved at the opening of each meeting to establish continuity of action and to check on the group's affairs. Reading of the minutes may be postponed by a majority vote but must be read at the beginning of the next meeting. The Chair will call upon the Secretary to read the minutes.

a) Contents of the Minute Report:

1. Name of the Group.
2. Kind of meeting (regular or special).
3. Place, date and time of meeting.
4. Name of the presiding Officer.
5. Approval of the previous minutes.
6. List of motions introduced their sponsors and their final disposition.
7. The time of the adjournment of the meeting.

b) Sanctioning of Minutes:

The minutes are read and the Chair announces, "You have listened to the minutes. Are there any corrections? (The Chair waits). If there are none, the minutes stand approved as read. Approval can be given by silent consent. If corrections are suggested, the Chair instructs the Secretary to make them. Should any objection to the Correction arise, a vote must be taken. Those in favor say "Aye", those opposed say "Nay", the Chair announces the results. The process is repeated if other corrections arise. The Chair finally announces, "there being no further corrections, the minutes stand approved as corrected." (Note: Minutes may be corrected at any time, but if already approved, a two-thirds majority vote is required to change them. If notice of the desired correction is posted or distributed for the membership to read prior to the consideration a majority vote is sufficient.)

MEMBERSHIP GUIDELINES

(Revised June, 2007) – Editorial & Contents

ACCOUNTING PROCEDURES AND PAYMENT OF DUES: - DUES AND INITIATION FEES

General Notes

Application procedure for new members must be strictly in accordance with the By-Laws, Article 1, Section 1 & 2. It was agreed by the Board of Directors in June 1989, that the new member application approval should be extended to 45 days from mailing date, and that if a complaint is received about the prospective applicant, it should go to the Directors for their decision.

An applicant for Contractor, Supplier or Dual Membership must meet the following requirement:

1. Must have been engaged in business as an elevator Contractor or Supplier when the application is made or on acceptance by The Board of Directors.
2. Must have an established place of business.
3. Must conform to and apply the rules promulgated in the Canadian Safety Code for Elevators, Dumbwaiters and Escalators or any other applicable codes or ordinances.
4. Must have an acceptable credit rating.
5. Must subscribe to the purposes of the Association and be willing to accept committee assignments and other work to further the ends of the Association.
6. All membership applications must be accompanied by a cheque in the full amount of the initiation fee (if applicable) and dues.
7. All membership applications must be approved by the Regional Chair in addition to any other sponsors.
8. All sponsored applications should be forwarded to the Membership Chair for process.
9. The individual that is registered as the Member's representative in the Membership Directory is the only person authorized to sponsor prospective members.

CONTRACTOR MEMBERSHIP:

In order for a prospective Contractor Member to be able to attend an annual convention, they must have completed all application and approval procedure at least one month prior to the annual General Meeting.

SUPPLIER MEMBERSHIP:

In order for a prospective Supplier Member to be able to display their products at a Convention, they must have completed all application and approval procedures prior to March 31st, of the current Convention year.

DUAL MEMBERSHIP:

A company that is actively engaged in the business of installing, maintaining, modernizing and repairing elevator equipment as well as manufacturing related equipment, may not hold Supplier Membership only. The company may obtain a Contractor classification with the restriction against displaying or selling at Conventions, or they may obtain a Dual Membership with privileges of both classifications. At General Meetings a Dual Member will be considered as a Contractor Member for voting purposes.

CHANGES OF MEMBERSHIP CLASSIFICATION: A member, who wishes to change their membership classification from Contractor-Supplier-Dual-Institutional-Subscription-Social or Honorary, must first obtain approval from the Board of Directors. Their dues will be restructured accordingly.

NOMINATING AND VOTING PROCEDURES

Appointment of the Nominating Committee:

The nominating committee will consist of the three regional Chairs plus one Supplier Director appointed by the President. The Chair of this committee will be the Chair of the Region where the Convention is held in each particular year. Reference: Directors Term of Office chart.

Objectives of the Nominating Committee:

To select, interview, screen and promote desirable candidates to stand for election to fill future vacancies on the Board of Directors.

Duties of the Nominating Committee:

- a) To develop nominating procedure in accordance with the Constitution and By-Laws of the Association.
- b) To compile a list of vacancies to be filled at the next General Meeting.
- c) To canvas all eligible members for the Board of Directors.
- d) To advise the President of Potential nominees for the President's final approval prior to nomination.
- e) To advise prospective nominees of the requirements that will be made upon them in the event of their election to the Board of Directors.
- g) To obtain written consent from the nominee to serve on the Board.

Voting procedures:

- a) A period will be allocated during each Annual General Meeting for the election of Directors to fill vacancies created by resignation or expiration of a current term.
- b) The election will be carried out by means of a confidential ballot.
- c) A list will be posted, prior to the election period, of candidates who have accepted nomination for the vacancies created.
- d) Under the Constitution and By-Laws, each company is entitled to one vote. Prior to voting a roll will be circulated among the general membership requiring a signature from the designated voting member indicating their eligibility to vote.
- e) Each nominee will be presented to the general membership, together with a brief summary of their company and background.
- f) A ballot form will be distributed to each eligible voting member. At the appropriate time the member will be requested to indicate their preference by marking the ballot sheet with an X against the names of their choice.
- g) After the ballots have been collected, there will be a short recess, during which time the votes will be counted.
- h) It will be the responsibility of the current Board of Directors to screen and count the votes.

- i) In the event of a tie vote, the President will have the casting vote.
- j) After the votes have been counted and the new Directors elected by a majority vote, the meeting will be reconvened and the results announced to the general membership by the President.
- k) After the announcement of the successful candidates elected to the Board of Directors, and in the event of no registered objection by any member of the General Assembly or the Board of Directors, it will be moved that the names of the new Directors be written into the minutes of the Meeting and the ballots destroyed.
- l) The Secretary of the Association shall retain the names of all runners-up in the election for future replacement in the event that a Director steps down.
- m) Immediately following the adjournment of the Annual General Meeting, a Board of Directors meeting will be convened, attended by both the retiring and newly elected Members of the Board.

DIRECTORS EXPENSES

C.E.C.A. Representation at N.A.E.C. Convention – revised November 2010 Expenses – revised June 2017

Expenses

The Association shall reimburse to a Director certain expenses incurred by the Director in attending a formally called Directors Meeting. These expenses shall be:

- a) Round trip transportation to and from the directors normal place of residence to the place of the meeting.
- b) Hotel or accommodation expenses.
- c) Meals while traveling and attending meetings.
- d) Ground transportation to and from airports.

All other expenses shall be borne by the Director. Should a Director be accompanied by their escort or immediate family, their expenses will be at the responsibility of the Director. It is expected that the Directors will take maximum advantage of discounted airfares, accommodation and ground transportation. Should a Director choose a higher class of transportation or accommodation, they will be reimbursed for the amount equivalent to the lower price ticket or item.

The Board of Directors shall, at the formally called Directors meeting, approve whether or not to pay for any additional expenses the directors incur from attending the Board of Directors meeting at the Convention, including attending the convention as a full delegate.

Upon completion of the meetings, all directors will submit their expenses with a filled-out expense form to CECA's Executive Director to obtain approval and process payment.

C.E.C.A. Representation at N.A.E.C. Convention:

It has been resolved by the Board of Directors of the Association that the current President of C.E.C.A. and their escort shall attend and represent the Association at N.A.E.C. Conventions.

It was further resolved that the Association would reimburse the President for airfare, meals and accommodation for the President and their escort while representing our Association at this function.

Following the Presidents return from this convention, the President shall formulate a report that will be presented at the next meeting of the Board of Directors. This report shall contain but not be limited to the functions and meetings that were attended, the general topics on the agendas and the prominent individuals in attendance. These meetings would include the A.G.M., the Bridge Builders Meeting and associated award and business meetings.

Committee Assignments:

In the event that the President should assign a Director to perform a committee function that would entail an excessive amount of the Director's time, travel or living expense, the Board may authorize the Association to reimburse the Director for their out-of-pocket expenses and to reimburse the Director a predetermined allowance for the hours worked on the assignment.

E.E.S.F.\C. Meeting:

Meeting date and time to be organized by Convention Host and E.E.S.F.C.

Board Meetings:

The Board of Directors meeting is to be held on the first day of the convention. Seating for 12 persons is required including the Administrative Assistant. The meeting room should be booked from 7:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. A continental breakfast is to be arranged for the Board of Directors and provided in the room between the hours of 7:30 a.m. – 9:30 a.m. A luncheon is to be arranged between the hours of 12:00 p.m. – 1:00 p.m. and an evening dinner is to be arranged for the Board of Directors and their spouses from approximately 8:00 p.m. onwards.

President's Meeting:

Is to be held on day three subsequent to the Annual General Meeting. The Board of Directors is to meet for approximately 1 – 2 hours and welcome new members to the Board and appoint portfolios.

Supplier Meeting:

A Supplier meeting is held on Day Four at the Suppliers breakfast – costs are included in the Convention budget. In the event that a Supplier's position on the Board of Directors is up for election, voting must take place prior to the Day Three Annual General Meeting. Voting may take place by electronic ballot if necessary.

Delegates and Guests Registration: (Begins day one)

A registration and reception table is usually set up at some convenient location in the hotel and should be posted on the hotel bulletin board. CECA signage is required.

When registering, delegates should receive their convention kits which include name tags, tickets to events, a convention program and any other information that may be required.

Provision should also be made to accommodate delegates who have not completed prior Convention registration by having Convention kits available. It will probably be necessary to accept registration fees and issue receipts. Extra tickets for various events should also be available for sale to last minute and late guests. It will also be necessary to make last minute name tags for unexpected attendees.

The location and open times of the hospitality suite should also be displayed.

A hospitality suite is usually arranged to be open, starting around 9:00 pm on the day of registration. Subsequent openings will be at the discretion of the Convention Chair and depend upon the Convention program schedule. Drinks are complimentary to registered delegates, the estimated cost being included in the Convention budget. A bartender will be required during some of the open times. Guest passes will be issued to non-registered guest at a cost set by the Board of Directors. Gambling in the hospitality suite is prohibited.

Presidential Suite:

It is customary to reserve a suite for the President and escort during the Convention. This suite is usually given complimentary by the hotel. If this is not the case, C.E.C.A. will pay from the proceeds of the Convention.

Meeting Room:

A meeting room is required for the Annual General Meeting of a sufficient size to accommodate all attending voting delegates.

The seating is arranged theater style.

A head table together with a podium is required to seat the Officers of the Association.

Suitable audio amplification will be required together with a projector and screen.

Meeting Room for Directors and Supplier:

Room requirements for Director's meetings are covered in the previous chapter on Board Meetings.

Room requirements for Supplier Meetings must be obtained from the Supplier Chair who will provide attendance figures and meeting times.

Kick Off Breakfast:

Held on day three of the Convention. It is recommended that we obtain a keynote speaker to start and set the tone of the Convention. A humorous topic is always well received.

A head table is arranged to accommodate guest speaker, the Convention Chair and escort, the President and escort and as many of the officers and escorts as space permits, namely the Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer.

After the breakfast (either buffet style or served at the table), the Convention Chair introduces the head table, makes a speech of welcome and outlines the Convention program. The Chair then introduces the guest speaker.

After the guest speaker, the Convention Chair expresses the Associations appreciation to the speaker and then closes the function. In the event there are no charges for the guest speaker, the Association usually makes a presentation of an appropriate gift (if the range of $100.00 to $150.00). The cost of paid speakers should be included in the Convention budget.

Luncheons:

A lunch should be arranged for delegates attending the Annual General Meeting on day three and a standing luncheon for everyone on day four, in the exhibits area.

On day three, (an optional) head table is required to seat any speaker, the Convention Chair, the President and any number of Association Officers that space permits. In the event there was insufficient space for all Officers at the Kick off Breakfast, it is suggested they be given priority seating. After lunch, the Convention Chair will introduce the speaker and upon completion of the speech, terminate the luncheon.

Although some companions and other registered members may not attend the Annual General Meeting, they may wish to attend this luncheon. Provision should be made for these extra people attending the luncheon. Usually, the companions will be occupied at this time with the companions program. Usually we have the hotel set up a bar for this function and two "drink tickets" are made available for people attending this function.

Cocktail Reception:

The President's Reception on day two of the Convention is funded by the Association. The hotel can assist in estimating the amount of liquor required once given the attendance figures. It is suggested that the cost be included in the registration fees. (Two drink tickets are usually provided).

Annual General Meeting:

The seating arrangements are covered in an early paragraph on "Meeting Rooms". However coffee should be arranged to be available during the recess period when votes are counted.

Dinner Dance:

The Dinner Dance held on day three of the convention and includes dinner, entertainment and an orchestra to dance by. The head table should include the Convention Chair and companion, the Past-President and companion (if a new President was elected at Convention), the newly elected President and companion, and any newly elected Directors and their companion, and space permitting, as many officers as possible. It is to be noted that during the past couple of years the head table was eliminated, and well received.

After the meal is completed, the Past President will give recognition to special guests, i.e. the President of N.A.E.C., Executive Director of N.A.E.C. and will give plaques from the Association and will introduce the new President (if applicable). The Past President will also introduce the new members of the Board of Directors and express the Association's appreciation for the services rendered by retiring Board members. The newly elected President will then present the retiring President with a plaque in recognition of their services followed by an address to the assembly.

Presentations:

In addition to the presentation of the trophy and plaque to the newly and elected and retiring President, it is usual for the newly elected President to make an appropriate presentation to the Convention Chair and spouse (in the range of $100.00 to $150.00).

Outstanding Booth Award – to be awarded by the President and the Convention Chair. Value of the award not to exceed $100.00 and wording award:

President's Award of Distinction for Outstanding Contributions to C.E.C.A.

Convention Contributions:

Some Supplier and Contractor members are good enough to contribute to the Convention by means of sponsoring cocktails, wine, coffee, flowers for the ladies, lanyards, and portfolio cases etc. The contributors should receive proper recognition by means of signs, appropriate announcements or indication on the Convention program.

Hotel Reservations:

The hotel will provide a phone number/ weblink / or other means for delegates to reserve their hotel room.

Exhibit Installation and Removal:

CECA Management reserves the right to fix the time for the installation of a booth prior to the Show opening and for its removal after the conclusion of the Show. Installation of all exhibits must be fully completed by the opening time of the exposition. Exhibits must be staffed during all Show hours and may not, to any extent, be dismantled before the Show closing. Any early dismantling or packing not previously coordinated shall be considered a breach of this policy and may affect future applications.

Should an exhibiting supplier require special consideration in regards to installation or removal of their booth, please let CECA know in advance at the time of booking and CECA will do its best to accommodate the exhibitor if possible. CECA reserves the right to assign that exhibitor a booth(s) conducive to early dismantle and less Show floor disruption.

Suitcasing:

Suitcasing is when a non-exhibiting company, either a current CECA supplier or a perspective CECA supplier, solicits business in exhibit hall aisles, in another company's booth or in other public spaces. This includes but is not limited to passing out information & brochures, and demonstrating products/services, etc. Suitcasing may also take the form of commercial activity conducted from a hotel guest room, a restaurant, club or any other public place of assembly involving convention attendees within the convention venues.

Any attendee who is observed to be Suitcasing as outlined above are in violation of the CECA Suitcasing Policy and will be asked to leave immediately without a refund. Additional penalties may be applied.

We ask that attendees and exhibitors report any violations you may observe to CECA Management.

Supplier attendance at the CECA Convention:

In order for elevator product or service suppliers to attend the CECA convention they must be a member in good standing. Suppliers do not necessarily need to exhibit but it is strongly encouraged.

Suppliers may not visit the CECA show on an exhibit day pass or be registered by another supplier member.

Party Policy:

CECA and your Convention Host work hard to put a Convention together for our Members and our Guests. In this respect, it is asked that no private parties be held during official CECA Convention Functions.

General Notes:

It is never too early to start planning the Convention.

The membership should be notified very early in the year of the convention dates.

Registration and hotel reservation forms should be sent out three months ahead of the Convention date.

Exhibition space should be organized and commitments obtained from Supplier members wishing to display. This should be done in January of the Convention year.

Convention Budget:

A preliminary budget is prepared approximately six months ahead of the Convention and is presented to the Board of Directors for approval at the semi-annual Board meeting prior to the Convention. The budget may include but is not limited to the following:

Expenses:

- Bank charges
- Organization fees and material
